

Dan Bensen is a CPA currently working in Audit and Assurance services for Deloitte in Chicago. He has several years of experience conducting audits of publicly traded and private company clients. He earned bachelor's and master's degrees in Accountancy from the University of Notre Dame. A lifelong native of the Chicagoland area, Dan enjoys spending free time with family and friends. Some of his favorite activities include cooking, playing basketball and golf, and strumming his ukulele.